

Automating the questionnaire changes the assumption it runs on Closed world: the country reports the record is complete no record of a practice the practice does not exist absence of evidence is evidence of absence

Open world: an agent searches the record is partial no evidence found the practice is absent, or the evidence was not reached, or it was never published absence of evidence settles nothing